VOTER REGISTRATION IN MATTAPOISETT

Special registration sessions will be held on October 5, 1974, Saturday, from Noon until 10:00 P.M. and on TUESDAY, October 8, 1974, from 8:30 A.M. to 10:00 P.M.

MARSH FILL HEARING

The Conservation Commission held a hearing on the Town of Mattapoisett's request to fill marsh at Hiller's Cove in order to enlarge the existing parking lot. Two plans were presented. One is to install a 24" culvert to drain the surrounding wetland. The second is to discontinue drainage across the parking lot and divert the flow to the ocean via a new channel installed near the edge of the town owned land on the border of the Dorothy Boardman property. The present parking area is roughly triangular. The proposed fill would reshape it to an approximately square 200 ft. x 200 ft. area. Mr. Brad Hathaway presented a written objection to the filling of the marsh. The Conservation Commission took the matter under advisement with a decision to be announced later. Should such decision be favorable, an environmental impact study from the town engineer will be required to be submitted with the Mass. Division of Waterways in the application for a license to proceed with any work on this proposal.

CONSULTANT INTERVIEW

Selectmen have requested that Mr. Charles E. Down meet with them this week. Mr. Down was interviewed by the Board in recent weeks as a possible consultant to advise on Flood Plain Zoning and Flood Plain Building regulation revision. At that meeting, he

STATE BUILDING CODE ARRIVES

The Massachusetts Building Code, which will cancel and replace the Mattapoisett Building Code on January 1, 1975, has arrived at the Selectmen's office. It will be made available there to the public.

GOVERNOR REPLIES ON COASTAL ZONE

Governor Sargent wrote September 19 in reply to Selectmen's request that his proposed Mass. Coastal Zone program be composed of representatives solely from the coastal communities and not by Boston or inland representatives without the knowledge or deep interest in coastal zones. The Governor said that Mr. Connoly of his staff is preparing a detailed response to the Selectmen's letter. The Governor stated that he agreed with the thoughts and special concern expressed by the Selectmen. He said he was confident that the area is one where local and state government can work together.

NEIGHBORHOOD OPPOSITION

Fourteen residents who are either neighbors or abutters to the Florence Eastman Post, American Legion, headquarters, presented a statement of opposition to the Board of Selectmen regarding plans to enlarge the building and provide off street parking space on Railroad Avenue.

conversations which have taken place since April 18 on the stabilization of the Eel Pond mouth.

In conclusion, the Board of Selectmen recommended that the entire project be scaled down both physically and financially with emphasis on stabilizing the outlet from the Eel pond and to keep the town's share of the costs within the $3,500. limit.

PROTEST RAPE LAW REQUIREMENTS & COST

Selectmen wrote to Governor Sargent in strong opposition to a law signed by him on July 22, 1974. This law would require the town to hire a special telephone line at $240. per year for the exclusive use of the reporting of the crime of rape. Specially trained personnel would be required to answer that phone.

The Selectmen wrote that they have unanimously voiced strong objection as yet another instance where legislative acts give little or no consideration as to whether a service is needed or can be financially supported by

Tulips

Planted in the fall to bloom in spring, the tulip lends itself admirably to landscaping. To help you, here are some basic guidelines.

Combinations. A successful bulb garden is based upon a complimentary combination of early, mid and late-spring tulip bulbs. This way, you'll have a continuous flowering of spring bulbs. Carefully blend the tall, stately tulips with the smaller and more delicate variety.

Clumps. Nothing looks more desolate than a row of single tulips. For a really colorful effect, plant bulbs of the same variety and color in clumps or masses. This gives your garden maximum visual impact whereas mixing varieties and colors dilutes the overall effect.

Color. Just as in the living room, there are certain colors which clash. For example, some gardeners feel that orange and purple don't go together. However, white and red tulips do go together, as do yellow and red tulips.

Height. The different varieties of tulips grow to varying heights. The popular Kaufmanniana and Greigii, for instance, are only 8 to 12 inches tall whereas the classic Darwins and Darwin Hybrids grow two to three feet fall. Low-growing bulbs look best in front of a border or along the outer perimeter of a bed, while the taller tulips look best when planted in big clusters by themselves.

Sequence. To insure that your garden stays in bloom for the whole of Spring, you should design your landscaping to include early, mid and late-blooming tulips. To give you some idea, tulips usually bloom in the following sequence: Fosteriana, Kaufmanniana, Praestans, Greigii Hybrids, Single Early, Double Early, Mendel, Triumph, Darwin Hybrids, Parrot, Darwin, Cottage, Double Late and Lily-flowered.

PAUL HAMEL

For State Senator

BECAUSE HE'S A SUBSTANTIVE CANDIDATE
WHO TALKS ABOUT SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES.

Hamel Favors Abolition of County Government:

Governor's Councillor Paul G. Hamel, candidate for the State Senate, announced on September 24, 1974, that he will file a bill to abolish County Government as we know it in Massachusetts. "It is unfortunate," Hamel said, "that the bills filed in the last legislative session were either piecemeal legislation attempting to remove specific functions from County Government or attempts to replace County Government with Regional Government. My bill would call for an outright abolition of County Government with the State assuming the responsibility of the Courts, prisons, hospitals and the roads. The enactment of such a law would thereby ease the burden on the real estate tax (see chart, below) and end once and for all the problem of apportioning in a fair manner the cost of County Government to cities and towns."

Hamel further stated that County Government is archaic and expensive and serves no useful function. A dramatic example of the weak nature of County Government was the Bristol County Budget. At the same time that the Legislature was cutting the budget it was also adding positions not requested by the County Commissioners. It is time to end this wasteful and useless level of red tape.

	Approximate Cost of County Government	Effect on Tax Rate
New Bedford	$1,063,000.00	$ 4.91
Dartmouth	541,000.00	2.26 (at 100% valuation)

Logic in Wonderland

LET'S TAX GASOLINE 10¢ GALLON

Editorial DCJ

Almost from the day that President Ford took office a persistent report has flicked in and out like the tongue of a viper. Now, news reports indicate that a 10¢ per gallon tax on gasoline is imminent. It appears this must have been one of the very first decisions of the new administration. Why not? The only man without a lobby, the taxpaying, non-organized, majority has been judged ripe for another plucking.

A nearly 100% increase in gasoline prices, an enormous rise in the cost of heating fuel and electricity, an unbearable rise in the cost of food have now softened this middleman up for yet another blow to his budget in his fight for a living.

What purpose can be served for an increased tax on an already overpriced necessity? In our economy which is so delicately balanced and so geared to the automobile it would appear foolhardy. It simply cannot be justified logically.

Logic has no place in Washington. When President Ford took office we all breathed a sigh of relief. He has the appearance and manner of a regular, average guy. He looked as though he had common sense. Forgotten was the fact that he has lived in a Congressional wonderland for most of his adult life. He has never known insecurity because as a Congressman, he could raise his substantial salary at will. He can be no more aware of the real world that President Nixon or millionaire President Johnson. An example of Washington Wonderland thinking is a bill now moving through Congressional channels which would spend millions from the public treasury to buy seed to give to

U. S. citizens so they can grow vegetables. The purpose is to free commercially grown food for export. No thought apparently has been given to the fact that millions of our tax money is given annually to farmers in payment for their not growing food. This has been going on for decades. It has put out of action land which is suited for growing food efficiently in great abundance. Congress would not consider ending the subsidy and freeing this land. Never, not when spending more millions for giveaway seed will enable the average city family to grow its own corn in high rise window boxes. This is the sort of "logic" that has surrounded the new President during all of his years in the Congress. Little wonder then that one of his first thoughts in behalf of the inflation

Home Safety

NEW YORK (ED)—Home accidents kill more children under the age of four than any disease. The agony after the fact (why didn't I keep that cleaning fluid out of baby's reach . . . put the knives back in the drawer . . . clear the stairs) has led safety experts to compile a list of home dangers. The makers of St. Joseph Aspirin for Children recommend you consider the following:

¶ Never leave a child alone in the house, not for one minute.

¶ Storing household detergents under the sink is so convenient. But if you have a toddler at home, it's also easy for him to break in and swallow something . . . something poisonous. Either store these things out of reach, or put a lock on the cabinet.

¶ Never use scatter rugs. A running child will slip, slide and fall. Keep the stairs free of clutter. Since you'll be doing most of the picking up after a toddler, learn how to bend properly (from the knees, not the waist) and avoid back strain.

¶ Make sure your husband keeps all power tools under lock and key.

¶ Make a room-by-room check of your home, eliminating all potential hazards before they occur. Most accidents are caused by carelessness. Isn't it nice to know that a little foresight can help make your home safe from tragedy?

Accidental injuries to teeth can be prevented with the use of safety belts in automobiles and mouth protectors when engaged in contact sports. Children should be encouraged to follow safety rules in running, playing games, and when using water fountains.

Like unexcelled. Or unequalled. Maybe unsurpassed. Or even unmatched.

And, happy to say, lots of folks who bank with us would agree. They've long since discovered what real convenience and real service are when it comes time to bank.

But, honestly now, we'd rather let them do our talking for us. Let them say the beautiful things.

Of course, we'd like you to find out for yourself what makes us BEE-utiful. And then you could say BEE-utiful things, too.

plagued public would be this 10¢ per gallon tax on gasoline. Henry Ford took a rich man's plaything, put it on the assembly line and put the average man on wheels. President Ford would reverse all that. He would leave the rich man on wheels and lead all others to use non-existent buses, ride non-existent trains or non-existent horses. It leads one to wonder if perhaps it is time for protest from the one group that is historically silent - the people who work for a living, people who need transportation as a means to do business and to get to and from their jobs in an economy which would be devastated by any significant killing off of the private automobile.

O.R. Alternative Curriculum

INDEPENDENT LEARNING CENTER

The Independent Learning Center is an alternative program within Old Rochester Regional High School involving students from grades 9 through 12. The program is designed to increase the educational options open to students by offering small classes, a varied curriculum, and by encouraging independent study.

Students spend part of their day in the Learning Center and part in standard High School classes. The staff of the ILC offers a variety of classes ranging from nutrition to horticulture, from psychology to singing, from algebra to the American Dream.

The ILC welcomes volunteers who could come in on a part-time basis and offer presentations, classes or some tutoring. They specifically could use volunteers to teach or tutor in French, English, drama and science, but people with other interests and skills are welcome. Interested persons should contact Mr. James Pasquil, Director of Instruction, or Mrs. Carol Sanz, Staff Director of the ILC, at Old Rochester Regional High School, 758-3745, or Mrs. Sanz at 748-0610 after school hours.

Close-Ups on Insects

FILM "THE HIDDEN WORLD"

The second film in the Children's Museum fall series, "The Hidden World", will be shown at 7:30 on Friday, October 4, at the Dartmouth Middle School auditorium on Hawthorn Street. (Please note that the time is 7:30 P.M.; several announcements listed an incorrect time.)

"The Hidden World" is a National Geographic Society film on the incredible lives of insects. Fantastic close-up photography depicts the drama of the insect world: a battle between marauding wasps and hive-defending bees, giant swarms of locusts, a termite queen that can lay several thousand eggs a day and many more of the interesting life histories and habits of insects.

The film, with a running time of 51 minutes, is recommended for children as well as adults. There will be a small donation requested at the door to help defray the cost of the program.

WHO CAN YOU TRUST?

The above question has been asked over and over again by all of us, especially when it comes to people running for office.

You can trust someone who is not a politician ... someone who has had to suffer the rise in food costs, taxes, increases in prices, frustration of trying to make ends meet ... only someone who has suffered the same pains as you, can appreciate your problems.

Barbara Lacasse is a housewife, business woman, mother and a concerned citizen. She knows what we have all been through, because she has been through it too!

WHO CAN YOU TRUST? The answer is obvious ... Let's all join together and elect someone who finally knows us and our problems ...

REPORT ON 200-MILL BILL FROM STUDDS WEEKLY REPORT TO THE PEOPLE BY REP. GERRY E. STUDDS, 12- MASS.

WASHINGTON, D.C., SEPTEMBER 27 -- Efforts to pass the Studds-Magnuson interim 200-mile fish conservation bill entered a final and critical stage this past week. There remain some very serious obstacles to be surmounted before Studds-Magnuson can become law, but we have a fighting chance of winning congressional approval before the end of this Congress.

This past week WCVB-TV in Boston reversed its stand of last year and editorially endorsed the immediate passage of Studds-Magnuson. Both Channel Five and the Cape Cod Standard-Times, which also editorially backed the bill this past week, cited the failure of the Law of the Sea Conference as the prime reason for passing Studds-Magnuson this year.

On Wednesday of this past week Ambassador John R. Stevenson, the United State representative to the Law of the Sea Conference, told the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, that Studds-Magnuson is very close in substance to what the United States is proposing to include in the international treaty if and when final agreements are reached. Ambassador Stevenson said, "We'd like to have what is in that bill be the law." But Stevenson added that the State Department still opposes unilateral action outside the conference framework.

who are cosponsoring Studds-Magnuson, pressed the Ambassador hard on the apparent unwillingness of our State Department to insist on the rights of American fishermen while continuing to bend over backwards to accommodate the fisheries claims of other nations -- particularly in Latin America. Ultimately, all Ambassador Stevenson could do was to beg the Congress -- as he has done year after year -- to have "patience" for yet another year.

I told him that many of us had exhausted our patience -- and that foreign fleets were not taking fish at the leisurely pace at which the diplomats were talking. He indicated that he appreciated the critical nature of the situation -- and that the State Department was willing to work with us in an attempt to draft compromise legislation. I intend, early next week, to determine whether or not the Department is prepared to support meaningful action rather than yet more empty words.
